Subject: Invitation to the 4th Hellenic Forum for Science Technology and Innovation

Dear Sir or Madam,

I would like to take this opportunity and invite you to attend the Hellenic Forum for Science, Technology & Innovation that is organized for the 4th consequent year by the National Centre for Scientific Research "Demokritos", under the auspices of the Hellenic Ministry of Foreign Affairs. The event will take place in the premises of NCSR "D" in Athens – Greece from Monday 11 to Friday 15 July 2016.

The Hellenic Forum to is organized within the framework of the Metropolitan Innovation Hub, a cluster initiative aiming at the establishment of a virtual technopolis among the local industry and the Greek Research Centers. The primary objective of the Hellenic Forum is to facilitate research networking of the Greek research and industrial potential so as to create opportunities for the development of scientific collaborations for the exploitation of innovative technologies and research outcomes. It also envisages opportunities for the development of links and affiliations between members of the Greek research community and industry as well as distinguished scientists living and working abroad.

The dedicated Brokerage Event which will take place during the event will further enhance networking opportunities for participants.

Over its five days duration, distinguished speakers from around the world will cover a broad range of topics around Nanotechnology, Energy & Environment, Life Sciences, ICT and Accelerator Technologies for Society

Registration to the event is free and is available online: <http://events.demokritos.gr/#register>

Sincerely,

Dr. Nikolaos Kanellopoulos

Chairman of the Board &
Director of NCSR "Demokritos"
