

CALL FOR APPLICANTS of the MASTER'S PROGRAMME IN SEE STUDIES

The Postgraduate Programme in "Southeast European Studies", which is in its seventeenth year of operation, will accept up to twenty-five (25) students for the academic year 2017-2018. It is one-year Master's programme taught entirely in English at the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens.

The Programme is addressed to graduates in the social sciences and humanities. Based on its interdisciplinary character, it aims at providing a thorough understanding of the key social, political, and economic issues of Southeastern Europe. It has an excellent student-teacher ratio, and a strong international character, actively encouraging the participation of students from around the world. In addition to its academic aims, the Programme offers a unique opportunity for students and professors with different backgrounds and experiences to spend an academic year in Athens, learning about Southeastern Europe with and from each other.

During its seventeenth-year-old history, it has received four hundred twenty five students from thirty seven different countries. Several alumni are employed across the globe in government, business, the academia, NGOs, and international organizations

The Programme charges tuition fees of €2,100 payable in three installments. Students who are citizens of specified Southeast European countries (i.e. Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, Kosovo (under UNSC Resolution 1244) Montenegro, Romania, Serbia, and the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia) and who are not in receipt of a scholarship from any other source may apply for a fees waiver.

For the academic year 2017-2018, the Programme will receive up to twenty-five graduate students. Applicants can submit their applications from January 9 till June 16, 2017.
