George Koukis started his career in 1973 with QANTAS AIRWAYS and in 1980 he joined Management Science America (MSA) in Sydney. From 1986 to 1993 Mr. Koukis developed the CTW business plan which was financed by IAVM, a Hong Kong based Venture Capital firm. From 1993 onwards George Koukis was the Founder, Chairman and CEO of the TEMENOS GROUP. Mr. Koukis acquired a twice bankrupt company that owned the Banking Software called GLOBUS and renamed the company TEMENOS. It is regarded today as the best company worldwide for Corebanking systems and has over 65 offices worldwide, 4000+ people and it is listed in the Zurich main Stock Exchange.

George Koukis retired the Chairman position of TEMENOS on the 1st July 2011 but is still a member of the TEMENOS Board of directors. He is on the board of various companies, Chairman of the Classical Opera based in London and a member of the Board of Pasteur Institute in Geneva. He is also known for funding charity programs for hospitals. Since leaving TEMENOS, he has invested in many start up companies where he is the sole investor. He has lived in Geneva for over 20 years.

George Koukis is a staunch proponent of Ethical Leadership. He founded a program “A DREAM FOR THE WORLD” and some of his thoughts have been widely reported. He funded programs to teach young Entrepreneurs, Ethical Leadership skills. Professor Stefano D’Anna has written a biographical book (A DREAM FOR THE WORLD – Path to Integrity) about Mr. Koukis which is available in English, Portuguese, Italian and Turkish. Mr Koukis holds a degree in Business from UTS and is a CPA.
